Unit.[Clinico-functional characteristics of epileptic and nonepileptic children].
The results of electroencephalographic and instrumental studies of the brain in epileptic and nonepileptic children are presented. Evidently, the study of functional properties of the cerebral cortex and its limbic-neocortical system in patients with intractable epilepsy provided additional information about the genesis of their seizures. Two possibilities of their development are discussed: the formation of an adequate epileptic condition in the cortex, and the enhancement of the disturbances of the cerebral limbic-neocortical system.

Q: Selecting the right regex syntax I need some help with understanding the right regex syntax, in my current workflow I select a specific rule from my global regex list. I could do this by 'extracting' the pattern from the list and assigning it to a variable (see the comment below), but I find this hard coded solution an error prone solution.

#!/usr/bin/env python3 import glob import os import re # Show a list of patterns def show_list(): '''returns a list of the list of rules''' path = os.path.join(__file__,
'output','sources.txt') patterns = [] # List of rules file_list = glob.glob(os.path.joi n(os.path.dirname(path),
'rules/rules.txt')) # open file and read lines with open(path, 'r') as f: for line in f: line = line.rstrip(' ') lines =
re.split(r'\s+|,| -|', line)
